WILMINGTON, N. C.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WILMINGTON, N. C., May 19.—But few socials marked the week just toshig in Wilmington, though life with society at Wrightsvile Beach, only nine miles out of the city by trolley, has been strenuous for local society, and there are still a number of house parties on at this seashere. A midweek dance at the large payillon on the beach and a ball at the same place to-night have added much to the galety.

The chief feature of social life of this week was the angual as unless the social street.

The chief feature of social life of this week was the annual re-union of the third North Carolina Infantry Association, which is the oldest of all Civil War issociation, having been organized here irrectly after the war and upon the fociation of the bringing home of the greynains of Colonel W. M. Parsloy, At the lime of the organization the times were if such nature that secrees had to be every year for a big social time, and Wednesday being the anniversary, and Wednesday being the anniversary, and the forty-first one at that, the day was fittingly celebrated. The observance took place at the home of Dr. E. Porter, at Rock Point, near this city, who is a member of the association. The day was royally spent and in the atternoon the guests were served with a sumptuous repast in the large grove in the rear of Dr. Porter's residence. The annual election of officers resulted as follows: Colonel villiam L. DeRosset, by senority, president; Mr. William L. DeRosset, Jr., secretary; and Rev. John R. Marshall, chaplain.

You will be amazed—you will be astonished—that this marks the beginning of the most marvelous sale ever engineered by the ingenuity of creative effort. The Bon Marche is going out of the Dry Goods business, so we have put this entire stock at the mercy of the people, and for this reason all goods will be ruthlessly sacriced at less than wholesale cost of raw material. Prices are now being marked to the lowest ever recorded in merchandise annals. Now let the glad tiding flash with speed of enthusiasm, and fill every home for a radius of fifty miles with the greatest money-saving opportunities that has ever been placed before the people of Richmond and surroundings.
